

K-LOVE is a fantastic service that I, my family, and others I know use from our homes, our workplaces, and even other locations as we travel around the country. This is possible because K-LOVE is a national service broadcast via a network of FM Repeaters. The content available on K-LOVE is not available on any traditional radio stations in the Denver market. The commercial-free format is especially beneficial as our family tries to minimize our childrens' exposure to commercial messages. The family-friendly content on K-LOVE means we can leave our radio tuned to K-LOVE without the concern that inappropriate content will come over the airwaves, as can happen with virtually every other radio station. The bottom line is that services such as K-LOVE are absolutely in the public interest, and represent an extremely valuable use of radio frequency resources.
